Navigating Distressed Investing in the Pandemic Era

This will be a conversation with senior distressed investors from around the world on the impact of the global pandemic on the distressed investing business and opportunities and pitfalls going forward.

12.30pm - 1.30pm

Shelter in Place? The Effects of Lockdown and Beyond on the Travel and Tourism Industry

There has been a massive shift in global travel resulting from geographic lockdowns, fundamental changes in business practice and the disruption of leisure holidays. Industry leaders from a broad range of sectors including airlines, hotels and tourism will discuss the real life impact of the changes they have seen and offer their predictions on those to come, including, opportunities for insolvency practitioners.

1.40pm - 2.40pm

Fraud and the Pandemic: The Limits of Doing Anything to Survive

As businesses struggle to stay open and operating during the pandemic, some take steps that may be challenged as improper or amounting to outright fraud. This panel will address how a global financial crisis facilitates questionable activity while also making fraud easier to detect. Perhaps the better question is not where did the money or assets go but did they ever exist?

2.50pm - 3.50pm

House of Cards: Investment Opportunities in Real Estate

Leading experts deal with issues relating to real estate investment opportunities in Europe, Asia, Latin America, and the USA. What opportunities have historically been available, and what has been the impact of the pandemic on those investments. Is there a future for real estate investing after COVID-19?

4.00pm - 5.15pm

Coming out Stronger: Lessons Learned and Ideas for Dealing with the Next Global Crisis

This session will involve a dynamic discussion by market experts from around the world on cutting edge issues relating to restructurings.
